Asks People To Choose Between Freedom and Regimentation

By The Associated Press

the 25 000 seats at the Chicago stadium

The people he declared must choose between regimentation of the economic life of 130 million people by politically appointed federal bureaucrats and the continuance of free enterprise under a government of constitutional powers

Begins Long Ovation

His appearance on the rostrum evoked a 10 minute ovation and set off a parade of delegations in national convention style His *long indictment of the administra*tion was interrupted frequently by applause Enumeration of the alphabetical agencies drew rounds of boos

The new deal he said embarked on a series of hysterical experiments initiated a campaign of abuse and vilification of business men inaugurated a policy of credit adulteration and currency experiment that demoralized foreign trade and frightened domestic finance hamstrung commerce by recklessly drawn reform measures and built mounting deficits

It set up a system of regimentation in industry that reduced production and prevented reemployment the Chicago publisher asserted It installed a regimentation of agriculture that destroyed food reduced foreign markets and increased the cost of living

Says Recovery Delayed

I charge the present administration with delaying recovery in the United States and the world and with responsibility for the ten million still unemployed

The nominee said the Republican party recognized that changing social and economic conditions called for increased federal activities but insists that such new activities shall be legalized by proper constitutional amendment.

He referred to the issues in the party's platform and added

Where the specific program is not definitely outlined the details will be represented in the coming campaign

In a telegram to the gathering presidential nominee Landon set forth

The party will gain much strength from the vigor experience and outstanding ability of Col Knox

John D M Hamilton chairman of the Republican national committee introduced Sen Frederick Steiwer to the throng saying this is the second occasion of moment in the history of the Republican party within the short space of a week He referred to the Landon notification ceremony

HE KNOWS BICYCLE HISTORY

Harry Keeler 65 veteran Marion bicycle dealer and repairman, is shown in the above photographs with two of his most prized vehicles At the top he is astride an old fashioned high-wheeler that preceded modern bicycles Below he is holding a bicycle the late President Harding rode for six years, and is pointing to its brake mechanism one of the first pedal safety brakes made

"Women's Whims" Sway Bicycle Industry, Says Old-Time Marion Dealer

H D Keeler, in Business Since "Gay Nineties," Comments on Bike's New Popularity, Owns One That Harding Rode.

A bicycle which the late President Harding rode for six years is the prized possession of Harry D Keeler 65 of 5?? Summit street who for 40 years has been a bicycle dealer in Marion and for 48 years operated a bicycle repair shop

As Mr Keeler proudly exhibited the Harding bike to a reporter this week he spoke cheerfully of the popularity bicycles have enjoyed in the last two or three years after a long period in which their use dwindled

Those Hollywood actors started it he said of the most recent comeback of bicycles

However Mr Keeler isn't laying in a big stock because most of the current popularity of bicycles lies with women excepting of course those sold for use by boys and girl

I learned back in 1904 what women's whims can do to a business he commented ruefully You see my business started in 1890 grew bigger each year up to and including 1903 Then for no reason except a whim of fashion women quit buying bicycle I had laid in a big stock of them for 1904 but women quit buying them and my business fell off several thousand dollars in that year Women's purchases mean a lot to many businesses including the bicycle business but they're too fickle to depend on

After disposing of the matter of what women's whims had done to his business Mr Keeler returned to the subject of the late President's bicycle relating its history

Story of Harding Bicycle

President Harding bought that bicycle from his brother in law C E Kling in 1899 when Mr Kling operated the North Main street hardware store where Harry Crawbaugh now has a store He rode it for six or seven years and then abandoned it in favor of an automobile

He gave the bicycle to his chauffeur who rode it for about five years Then the bicycle was stored in Kling's barn Shortly after Mr Harding went to Washington as United States senator Frank J Longshore moved to the Kling residence on East Church street He wanted the barn to store his grocery delivery trucks in so he gave the bicycle to Lou Dennig who then was his clerk and who now operates the United Electric & Supply Co

Dennig brought it to me for repairs I recognized it as the

ROOSEVELT ON VISIT IN QUEBEC

President Lauds Frank Dealing Between Two Nations as Cause of Long Peace

CITES RECIPROCAL TRADE

Labels New Commerce Treaty 'Good Neighbor' Policy of New Deal in Practice

By The Associated Press

QUEBEC July 31 — President Roosevelt responding to a tremendous ovation in this historic French Canadian city today asserted frank dealing cooperation and a spirit of give and take between nations is more important than ever before in solving grave world problems

Pointing to the long years of peace and friendship between Canada and the United States as an example for other nations Mr Roosevelt also referred to the Canadian American reciprocal trade agreement as tangible evidence of the desire of the people of the two countries to practice what they preach when they speak of the good neighbor

On Good Will Visit

The first American President to pay an official visit to Canada's governor general Mr Roosevelt arrived this forenoon for a long promised good will call and was taken to Dufferin terrace overlooking the St Lawrence river for addresses of welcome and his own response

Mr Roosevelt stood on a flag bedecked platform on Dufferin terrace as he expressed warm appreciation for the rousing reception accorded him at the depot and on the way to the speaking stand with his son James and the latter's wife

Previously he had been welcomed in addresses by Lord Tweedsmuir Canada's governor general Mackenzie King the prime minister Adelard Godbout prime minister of Quebec and J F Gregoire Quebec's mayor all of whom cited Canadian American friendship as an example for all nations

Lauds Similarity of Purpose

It is my prayer said Lord Tweedsmuir that not by any alliance but through thinking the same thoughts and pursuing the same purpose the republic of the United States and the British commonwealth may help to restore the shaken liberties of mankind

A luncheon at the nearby Citadel summer residence of the governor general near where Arnold and Montgomery American revolutionists stormed and captured the city on New Year's eve 1775 followed the speech making

It was here Mr Roosevelt and Canada's governing heads talked over in private mutual problems affecting the two English speaking nations

Speaking in English and French on the terrace the American chief executive objected to accounts of his recent vacation cruise in Canadian waters which said he was to be accorded in Canada all the honors customarily rendered to a foreign ruler

Your excellency he said turning to Lord Tweedsmuir I am grateful for the honors but some

CLAIMS HE SHOOK BABY

Tells of Cut Lips and Bruises on Girl's Body After Attack by Father

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES Calif July 31—Mary Astor's description of a joyous mother and child relationship was in the record today superimposed on a picture of physical punishment and mental castigation which she said Dr Franklyn Thorpe inflicted on their baby girl

The trim screen actress and the surgeon who divorced her last year are struggling for custody of chubby Marylyn Thorpe who has just passed her fourth birthday

He shook her until her teeth rattled the actress said Her lips were cut and there were bruises on her little body

Dr Thorpe was sitting directly in front of his ex wife When she made these assertions his face wrinkled into an expression of bewilderment

Reach High Point

This was the high point of three nights of testimony which has been adjourned now until Monday morning

Another ripple of anticipation passed over the crowd when Attorney Joseph Anderson representing Dr Thorpe asked the nursemaid Nellie Richardson

Do you know George Kaufman?

Immediately Mary Astor's representative Roland Rich Woolley *was on his feet shouting objec*tions That's only an attempt to scandalize innocent persons he cried It's immaterial and beside the point

Judge Knight overruled him and Miss Richardson said she had heard the name but was unable to recall whether a George Kaufman had ever visited Miss Astor at her home

The man mentioned was not further identified

The significance of this point lay in the fact that a written statement attributed to Miss Astor in an affidavit filed by Dr Thorpe told of an illicit love affair with a man named George

Woolley led her quickly over the months immediately following her

VOTERS TO ACT ON REQUESTS

Each Calls for One and One-Half Mills for Two Year Period

PETITIONS TO BE STARTED

Arranged by Committees of Council Workers and Furloughed City Employes

A movement was under way today to hold a special election to give voters of Marion an opportunity to act on two proposed one and one half mill tax levies—one to return furloughed policemen and firemen to work and the other to raise funds to finance an extensive WPA program

Arrangements to submit the levy proposal were made at a meeting last night of the finance committee of city council committees of police and firemen and a committee of the newly formed WPA Workers league held in the office of Mayor Smith

The levies would appear on separate ballots so that if voters decided to support only one of two proposals they could do so

Petitions to initiate the levy projects will be circulated among the voters at once sponsors of the proposed levies said Those for the WPA levy are to be started tonight or Saturday and police and firemen expect to have their petitions out Monday They will be circulated throughout the uptown business and residential sections

Required Percentage

Each set of petitions must carry the signatures of 821 qualified electors that number being 10 per cent of the total vote of 8,209 recorded at the last general election election board officials said

The levies would run two years as provided in the most recent Ohio law on special elections unless sponsors made arrangements to set them up to run less than that length of time. *Those back of the police and firemen's pro*posal said they intend to investigate the procedure necessary to shorten their levy to run 18 months

A one and one half mill levy on the city tax duplicate would raise approximately $87 000 County Auditor Harry V Mounts said

Procedure Outlined

*If a sufficient number of signa*tures are obtained council will be obliged to pass a resolution calling for the special election However the law provides that it cannot be called sooner than 20 days nor longer than 120 days after adoption of the resolution Since the general election is to be held Nov 3 council could place the levies on the ballots at the time thus saving the cost of a special election which is estimated at approximately $800 This amount would come from city funds.

Concern has been voiced recently over the serious situation with regard to both the reduced personnel of the police and the fire departments and the WPA program

Departments Undermanned

Attention has been called by officials to lack of adequate police and fire protection Nine city patrolmen and 11 firemen were furloughed under the city administration's economy program If voters pass the proposed one and one half mill levy these men would be restored to the departments at the same rate of pay given those now working The present pay scale is on an 85 per cent basis

It has been reported from sources regarded as reliable that fire insurance rates on commercial and industrial property in Marion are virtually certain to be increased soon unless the fire department is restored to full strength

*The government's works pro*gram in the city has been drastically curtailed principally because the city cannot furnish the funds for materials for the projects as required Dozens of men have been laid off of WPA in the last several weeks and are rapidly being taken back on direct relief

Workers on the WPA program formed the WPA Workers league about three weeks ago for the purpose of devising ways and means to carry on the govern

Safe for Present

Landusky about seven miles from the scene of an earlier fire is safe as long as the wind does not swing the racing flames back, foresters said.

The fire swept the site of the old August mine onetime treasure spot of the Rockies near Landusky and some of the houses in the Cabbage Patch where a few Landusky miners lived, reports from the Indian agency at Hays said.

Telephone lines were down but refugees from the flame-swept area said the fire was far worse than the blaze which started last week and swept over approximately 20 square miles of green timber.

F Cox Harold Lawrence and Wilbur Robinson. They are charged with kidnaping and flogging Robert Penland Ecorse steel worker for non attendance at Black legion meetings

First To Go on Trial

They are the first Black legionnaires to go on trial since the investigation began although 57 defendants are charged with crimes ranging from arson to murder in 10 separate cases

Five defendants in the latest case to be filed were arraigned in recorder's court yesterday on murder charges in connection with the shooting of Silas Coleman Negro World war veteran in May 1935 They are Harvey Davis Ervin D Lee, James Roy Lorance John Bannerman and Charles Rouse

They stood mute and pleas of not guilty were entered for them They are accused of killing Coleman because Davis wanted to see how it felt to shoot a Negro

The first day of the kidnaping and flogging trial developed complications for the prosecution when Penland testified that although he was taken under duress to a Black legion conclave and threatened for not attending meetings he was not beaten

Given Lashes

Sergeant McWhirter however testified that the defendant Guiley whom he arrested, told him Penland was given "12 or 15 lashes" The prosecution claims Penland minimized his punishment in fear of retaliation

Penland testified that Guiley Cox and Anstad took him from his home last Oct. 5 to an open-air Black legion meeting where King Robinson Lawrence and others charged him with laxity in attendance

I told them I'd try to attend more meetings but I never did and then they drove me home he said

Asked by the defense if he could not have escaped during the ride to the meeting Penland replied

I could have run away if I'd wanted to take a chance of getting shot

Effects of Sun.

WE HEAR a great deal about the benefits of sunlight As I write this I am enjoying a sun bath on the balcony of my hotel No one will deny that the ultra violet rays of the sun are exceedingly beneficial If made use of whenever possible they aid in the prevention of many diseases.

But there is another side to the picture We must not overlook the dangers of sunlight Some persons are exceedingly sensitive to the rays of the sun Their skin is of a very delicate type Even small doses of sunlight cause great redness and discomfort

There are two constitutional disorders which may be aggravated by undue exposure For example there is a universal belief that sunlight is a universal belief that sunlight is a cure one for tuberculosis It is true that many cases of tuberculosis are greatly benefited by sunlight but there are some patients who are actually made worse by prolonged exposure to the rays of the sun

During the summer months many of us are eager to acquire that coveted coat of tan In our eagerness to obtain it we often subject our bodies to overdoses of sunshine If you have ever suffered the evil effect of a severe sunburn as I have you will agree with me that it is one of the surest ways to spoil what promised to be a fine vacation

When vacation time comes bear in mind that exposure to the sun should be gradual It is not safe to stay in it for long periods of time until you have attained a protective coat of tan

*In hot weather it is well to re*member too that the body must be guarded against sunstroke and heatstroke Sunstroke is caused by undue exposure to the sun causing a disturbance of the heat regulation system of the body It is a common accident during warm weather when young children or adults engage in vigorous and unaccustomed activity

At first there are headache and dizziness The victim appears to be suffering from severe pain He soon becomes pale weak and sick at the stomach Collapse and unconsciousness may follow The pupils of the eye become dilated and the pulse is rapid and weak

Mild cases of sunstroke quickly respond to treatment but severe forms require expert medical attention For this reason it is best to call a doctor

Heatstroke is more serious than sunstroke The skin is dry and hot caused by abnormal elevation of the body temperature Jerking and rolling of the head are symptoms which often confuse this accident with epilepsy

OFFICE-WORKER HELPED BY NATURAL LAXATIVE FOOD

ALL-BRAN Corrected Her Constipation*

Here is her voluntary letter: "For years I was a sufferer from constipation.* It was necessary to take a laxative every night before retiring. I was an office worker, and did not get much exercise.

"Some one told me that ALL-BRAN was a good remedy for constipation.* I bought a box, and found that it helped my condition. Since then I have not had to invest in laxatives."—Mrs. Margaret Jones, 911 E. Laura Street, Clearwater, Florida.

Scientific tests have shown that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN corrects constipation* safely and pleasantly. This delicious cereal supplies mild "bulk," as well as vitamin B and iron. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Wouldn't you rather enjoy this natural food than abuse your system with harmful pills and drugs?

Protect your family from the dangers of common constipation.* Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity. Either as a cereal with milk or cream, or cooked in tempting muffins, breads, etc. Recipes on every package.

Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Red and seedless grapes from the Pacific coast and local yellow transparent apples are other items prominent on the market stands. The apples are above the ordinary in quality and are priced low at six pounds for a quarter. Interference

Americans are all really far to be from Spain [illegible] of the present rebellion is another demonstration of the instability of the [illegible] but the neighbors of that troubled country know it is an important spot on the Europe[illegible] map of the world. What Spain does might affect a non-Aryan cobbler in Germany, a collective farmer in Russia or a French peasant.

That eddies from the Spanish whirlpool might spread over Europe is widely recognized. Since the rebellion gained momentum, frequent rumors have pictured first one nation and then groups within nations as militantly favoring either the rebels or the leftist government. Pravda, communist newspaper in Moscow, has dubbed the rebel leader, General Francisco Franco, a bloody executioner of the Spanish people. In turn General Franco accuses the French and Russian governments of sending or permitting to be sent arms and supplies to the loyal troops.

Germany, plainly alarmed over the possibility of communistic triumphing, already has protested to the government over the alleged destruction of German property and lives at Barcelona. Mussolini has shown his sympathies lie with the fascist rebels. Premier Blum of France is besieged by requests of his leftist supporters to send supplies to the Spanish radicals and urged by the rightists to abstain from taking any action in the dispute.

Possibly the governments of most nations would prefer to remain aloof, permitting events to take their course. But there is no certainty that the demands of pressure groups within the different countries can go unheeded. Radicals see the chance of establishing another workers republic in Spain. Conservatives see the opportunity of dealing another death blow to communism.

If the pressure of those demands breaks over the dam, Europe will find itself very much concerned with the Spanish revolution. If the eddies spread that widely there is no guarantee they might not cross the Atlantic.

Blame the Heat.

If you lose all your pep by noon and yearn for an afternoon siesta, blame the heat. If you feel no incentive to do things which used to excite you, blame the heat. If nothing in life seems worth while except a cool drink sipped in a shady spot, blame the heat. If you come to believe our Canadian neighbors are more energetic and resourceful than are we Americans, blame the heat.

For your heat blaming program you'll have the indorsement of a Cincinnati professor, an authority on the relation of weather to human conduct. He advances the theory that the heat belt of the United States gradually is shifting northward and that the world generally is getting warmer.

The outlook for northerners is gloomy if the prophet is correct. Oppressive heat will grip us year after year and sap our vitality. Now, obviously, is the time to start preparing. We must begin to popularize the axiom— It's the heat.

Three Years of Study

An able committee of the American Bar association has recommended, after three years of study, creation of a federal administrative court to take over judicial functions now exercised in 267 classes of cases by 77 administrative agencies.

Almost any citizen would decide after reading the proposal and the details which go with it that here is one more problem of government that is out of his line. He is more than willing to take the lawyers' word for it. But the thing really isn't out of his line at all.

Steadily, ever since his forefathers established a model government 150 years ago, things have been growing more complex. Incompetent, lazy and indifferent officials have been changing the original pattern a line here and a line there. All the time they have been looking for the easiest way to do what they thought needed to be done.

Today the result of their cumulative labor is a far cry from the original demand of the founding fathers for a government of separated powers. Legislators delegate power to administrators. Administrators seize the power of the judiciary. The judiciary encroaches on the power of legislators.

What can be done about it? What ever can be done about any short coming or overstepping in government? Somebody proposes a new agency of government to check up on existing agencies. Subsequently, it becomes desirable to establish more agencies to [illegible] a few [illegible].

It is almost [illegible] complex [illegible] of government [illegible] appraise [illegible] we [illegible] government [illegible] effects [illegible] and confusion [illegible] afterward.

The Stadium Project

It [illegible] take advantage [illegible] park [illegible] stadium [illegible].

Federal [illegible] community will [illegible] small [illegible] is [illegible] like to be a state [illegible]. To let it go [illegible] demonstration [illegible] point on Marion's [illegible].

There [illegible] in favor of this project. The construction work would give several months employment for between 40 and [illegible] men and that is a point worthy of consideration in these days.

Besides providing a permanent improvement of extraordinary value for the North Side park, it could be made the starting point for a completely modern athletic field, giving us an important community asset. It would tend to promote and encourage sports activities of all kinds and that is something necessary for every community which aims to be live and progressive.

Marion needs such a place and this obviously is an opportune time to get it.

Railroading

Following close upon the German-Austrian accord, a settling yet disturbing agreement comes a Russian move toward involvement in Central European politics.

As a result of a conference of the Little Entente powers, commitments are being made to build a railroad from Russia through Rumania to Czechoslovakia. The road will give Russians quick access to the Czech state if trouble arises calling the Franco-Czech-Russian alliance into action.

Undoubtedly the move is an answer to Adolf Hitler who might be said to have a strong agreement with Austria and Italy. Lying right in the path of any possible German expansion, the Little Entente nations under the leadership of Rumanian Foreign Minister Titulescu realistically have assayed the dangers. Since Russia increasingly has shown interest in what is happening in Central Europe—with good cause—readily it has accepted the railroad proposal which would enable it to be on the spot if the Nazis start moving.

While all powers might be blamed for the tangled state of European affairs today, none can be criticized singly for moving toward new alliances and mutual aid pacts. This latest counter to Germany's recent move on the political chessboard is the inevitable outcome of the breakdown of the League of Nations. Secret and inter-nation diplomacy is returning to Europe. Past history does not justify the belief that the road to peace lies that way.

Still in the Running.

Jacob S. Coxey, the venerable "general" of Massillon, has gone to the northwest to stump for William Lemke as the Union party candidate for President. The general himself is the party's 16th congressional district candidate.

Before leaving for the 1936 wars he published his own platform. Following are a few of its salient points:

Place the country on a 50 billion dollar legal tender money basis backed by 300 billion dollars of property value and 11 billion dollars of gold and silver.

Declare a moratorium on all taxes and retire the national debt and liquidate the federal reserve system out of the 50 billion dollars.

Establish state controlled community banks and let federal government issue money at cost of printing secured by community non-interest bearing bonds which could be loaned out at a small service charge.

Provide all citizens over 60 with 200 dollars a month.

Guarantee a dollar an hour for a 30 hour week to all labor unable to make more than that in private production.

Guarantee to the farmer and his wife (the forgotten woman) an annual income of $1,500 apiece plus depreciation allowances for their land and equipment.

We submit that when it's a matter of saving the nation with magic swiftness by patented panacea, the man from Massillon still is No. 1. When the rising generation of minority leaders was riding tricycles he was being ordered off the grass in Washington.

Same Tune Played by 6 Governors

No One Surprised That Democratic Chorus Disapproved Landon Speech

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright 1936 by The Marion Star

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Six radio speeches [illegible] by the new deal national committee featuring the addresses of six Democratic governors [illegible] in answer to Governor Landon's speech of acceptance.

Republicans are [illegible] saying that if it takes six Democratic governors to reply to the speech of one Republican governor—especially if that one is just a plain governor from a typical plains state—the present campaign may require before long the services of all the other [illegible] more Democratic governors.

Analyzing the speeches of the six Democratic governors, there is a central point of view which is very much in line with the strategy of the new deal campaigners heretofore. The idea is to lambaste an opponent by an argument directed at his personality. Virtually all the speeches were written to indicate a disbelief in Governor Landon's sincerity. This is a familiar but by no means desirable line of approach in politics and is used primarily in order to undermine any confidence that may have direct attached to a given candidate.

That all six Democratic governors were in disagreement with Mr. Landon's speech was of course no surprise to anybody, possibly not even to the radio listeners. What would have been a great surprise would have been for any one of the six Democratic governors to have found anything enlightening or sensible at all in the speech of the Republican nominee.

The public as a rule discounts such political addresses and it would have been much more interesting if the six governors had explained their viewpoint on the real issues of the campaign—the relief scandal, for instance, or the waste of public money which has made the public debt higher than at any time in American history. Nor was there from the governors any indication that they believed there was any use in talking about future economics.

The speeches may have been intended as a contribution to the political debate but actually they merely serve to emphasize that the political committees who arrange such programs imagine the listeners do not have any interest in issues but prefer to have direct attacks on personalities.

The radio public is not at all aware that speeches of this kind are not spontaneous and merely represent the planning of a publicity committee. The speeches were all written in much the same style. This was probably due to the fact that the governors who have been in the habit of accepting orders from the White House on party policy instead of exercising their independence on behalf of their own states now feel obliged also to accept the speeches prepared for them by the Democratic publicity committee.

Still the time on the radio is paid for by the political committee who presumably can say what they please now and make any attacks they like. The broadcasting companies themselves are willing to sell time to any political party.

Unfortunately the independent point of view which does not subscribe to the political chicanery practiced by either of the major parties does not get a hearing. The emphasis is entirely on an artificially prepared program. This would seem to indicate that a truly disinterested appraisal of the merits of the speeches and the trend of the campaign will be obtained by the public this autumn from the press instead of the radio. It will be a matter of great regret to people who believe the radio could have been useful in raising the level of political intelligence of the country to see the medium used so extensively as a vehicle for canned propaganda.

It was Saturday, July 31, 1926.

City council again became the target of criticism for its failure to revise and reduce the city's budget for operating expenses for 1927 which had been rejected by the county budget commission. Several local industrial leaders issued statements attacking what they called the inflated budget.

Behind the News

Men and Affairs Under The Washington Spotlight

BY CARTER FIELD

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Not much attention has been paid the recommendation of the federal power commission that some 1,000 additional miles of railroad trackage in this country should be electrified, including that of the Boston & Maine railroad from Boston to Troy and Rotterdam, the New York, New Haven & Hartford line from New Haven, Conn., to Providence, R. I., and the New York Central from Croton to Buffalo (which would mean an electric line all the way from Boston to Buffalo and from Providence to Washington) and various other projects.

There is some suspicion that the power commission was seeking further customers for proposed and existing federal government owned electric plants such as TVA but this suspicion is rather discounted by the fact that of the three men who drew it up two had formerly been in railroad electrification work and might be regarded as knowing some of the practical ends of the business.

To begin with the bulk of the recommendations would affect railroads in the northeast whereas the government electric projects for the most part are in the west. It might be suspected by some one who knew little of railroad interests that the proposals for the Chesapeake & Ohio and the Virginian railways were designed to provide customers for TVA power but no one familiar with the two railroads in question would figure that as logical. The answer here is that the Virginian and the C. & O. have such close tieups with coal mine operators who provide most of their revenue tonnage that it is almost unthinkable they would buy power to operate their trains from a distant water power source.

Two Sources

It is common knowledge that electricity can be produced just as cheaply by modern devices from coal as from water power, taxes and interest rates being what they are. Whereas the pressure of the coal miners would be heavy on the railroads in question to use coal produced current.

So far as the New England and Middle Atlantic roads are concerned—several projects for the Pennsylvania and the Baltimore & Ohio are suggested—those who suspect an ulterior government ownership objective have suggested the St. Lawrence seaway.

But two facts stand in the way of this theory. One is that the officials of the railroads involved, if they thought that any electrification they did would help the St. Lawrence seaway, would rather have their freight trains driven by oxen. Obviously the St. Lawrence seaway would divert so much business from the New England and Middle Atlantic roads, especially the New York Central, the Pennsylvania, the Baltimore & Ohio, as to make a serious dent in their gross receipts.

Which is especially pertinent because there are only two good economic excuses for electrification—density of traffic which justified electrification of the Pennsylvania railroad from New York to Washington and the New Haven line from New York to New Haven, and sharp mountain climbing involving pusher engines where steam is used and wasting the power of steam trains going down hill—which justified the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul in its Rocky and Sierra Mountain electrification.

Result of diversion.

Diversion of traffic to the St. Lawrence would cut into the density of traffic of the eastern roads—make them electrification uneconomic.

But the St. Lawrence project is dead as Hector anyway for some years to come. President Roosevelt discovered that. He found he could not induce senators from Atlantic and Gulf states to vote to approve the necessary treaty regardless of politics, regardless of their views on government ownership of electric plants, regardless of everything. Their states did not want their ports hurt by diversion of traffic or their railroad employment cut down by the same thing.

So the project for the first time since it became an issue was not mentioned in the Democratic platform despite the fact that Roosevelt, keen for the St. Lawrence on the power rather than the transportation angle, would like to accomplish it. Neither was it mentioned in the Republican platform though one might have expected that the ambitions of Cleveland to become an ocean port would at least have provoked a battle.

TODAY — England Did Not Read November's Prediction

[illegible] horror [illegible] future of Europe [illegible] has found time to [illegible] get possession of Africa and other regions [illegible] around the globe.

Lack of Foresight

That does not sound particularly humble or non-resentful. England knows that some half baked statesmen have made her ridiculous, [illegible] no farther than their nose, the Ethiopian matter, forgetting that the most vulnerable thing on earth just now is the far reaching British Empire, the British fleet no longer important, and the English Channel no more protection to England than old Governor's Island in New York harbor is protection for that city.

The English know the situation, although, like the gambler caught cheating, they do not like to be told about it. When Hitler advanced to the Rhine, England decided to let France take care of that situation, which meant tearing up the Versailles treaty.

Face saving made it necessary to do something, so England sent Hitler a typically British diplomatic questionnaire, demanding to know his intentions. Days were passed. Hitler replied ingeniously by sending no answer at all, which meant, "Please attend to your business; I'll attend to mine."

The London Evening Standard in an interesting cartoon gives the real answer.

The British foreign minister is seen sitting at his desk, in which Hitler with Mussolini right behind him, both doing the goose step and holding their thumbs to their noses, dragging on a leash a reluctant dachshund with its tail between its legs labeled Austria.

And that is the European situation as this is written.

England's dealings with [illegible] managed Anglomaniac state[illegible] in the United States may [illegible] caused her to forget that continental Europe possesses real statesmen able to think ahead.

However, in the long run England is at least the equal of any country on earth in statesmanship and if airplanes, submarines and dictators make it possible for her to keep all of her far flung property that she gathered in Old Albion will [illegible] her choicest possessions.

She is building an air [illegible] planned to give her control of [illegible] new ocean, the air, and she has at least one great dominion, Canada, on which she can count permanently for food supplies and all.

ertions became apparent, it was suggested that riding one was pretty dangerous business that probably was not worth the danger involved

Despite pleas for his safety he trundled the bicycle out into the driveway and proceeded to climb up the back of it to the seat He pedaled up Summit street at an even gait

Breathing heavily as he returned the high wheeler weighs about 75 pounds he remarked that it was his first ride on it in 15 years the last one having been taken when he was about 50 years of age

The high wheel bicycles used to retail at a price range of $135 to $160 Mr Keeler said The low type that followed them was just as expensive the standard model selling around $125 and the light weights which weighed 25 to 30 pounds as compared with the 50-pound standard models, selling at $160

Fancy 1893 Model

When I came to Marion in 1893 he ate Henry S Ruhl had a Columbia light weight roadster he had bought of Frank A. Huber for $160 Mr Keeler said Mr Huber then was secretary treasurer of the Marion Steam Shovel Co and was the Marion representative of the Columbia people This bicycle had pneumatic tires a feature that had been introduced in 1892

The late Abe Mack who formerly was a reporter on the old Marion Mirror also had a $160 model then a Cleveland Swell special which he had purchased from Fred Hiberman St

Bicycles and the bicycle business have undergone many changes since the turn of the century Mr Keeler said The bicycles have become less expensive now selling between $25 and $30 for most models and their use has dwindled largely to children of 10 to 15 years of age he said

As soon as a young man gets a pair of long trousers today he wants an automobile he remarked

Women riders have given the business a spurt in the last two or three years due to the craze that started in Hollywood but thats only a temporary thing in Mr Keelers opinion He predicted bicycles never would return to their former heights of popularity shortly after 1900 when they were used extensively as a practical means of transportation and for recreation as well

For Endurance Riders

He told of the Century clubs in existence in those days with members planning long Sunday trips up to and including 100-mile journeys If the bicyclist couldnt round out the 100 mile trip he wasnt eligible for membership in the club

Even the repair business has dwindled although there are many bicycles used by boys and girls he said Many Boy Scouts must have taken some instruction in camp about repairing bicycles because most of them can take one apart and reassemble it he continued All they do now is come around and buy parts and fix them up themselves unless its an unusually difficult job he complained

Yes bicycles and their use certainly have changed he reflected

Just as he spoke three boys on one bicycle went past the house one of them on the cross bar one on the riders seat and the third on a package carrier frame over the rear wheel They rode up and down the street several times a dog barking after them Mr Keeler looked on rather wistfully

With memories of days when bicycles carried thousands of workmen to their jobs and were the vehicle of many families—transportation for father instead of Junior—Mr Keeler repeated again

Yes bicycles and their use certainly have changed

Eugene C Grace president of the Bethlehem Steel Corp has added his voice to those forecasting brisk times for steel mills

The executive chief of the industrys second biggest producer however did not go as far in his forecast as Charles G Dawes Chicago banker and former vice president of the United States who said operations would be near capacity early next year

Grace pointed to the mid-year backlog in support of his contention third quarter results may show further improvement

In July he said the company continued to book more new business than it shipped against old order

DAVEY MAY INCREASE OLD AGE PAYMENTS

Boost from $15 to $20 a Month Believed Possible Due to Liquor Revenue Gain

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON July 31 — Gov Martin L Davey today saw the possibility of increasing Ohios maximum old age pension payments from $15 to $20 a month before Oct 1

The Ohio executive who conferred most of the day with the social security board before leaving last night for Columbus asserted the social security problem was the sole purpose of his visit here

Governor Davey denied knowledge of reports that national and state Democratic campaigns might be conducted separately in Ohio which Charles Sawyer of Cincinnati Democratic national committeeman said certainly would not mean any lack of harmony

The governor announced during his successful primary campaign that the Ohio and national campaigns would be conducted as a unit but Sawyer and Senator Robert J Bulkley in Cleveland said the separation proposal was under consideration

Davey based his prediction of a possible old age pension increase on additional receipts from liquor taxes and profits and on agreement with the board which through the federal government contributes half of the payments as to qualifications of employes who will administer the social security act

SPOTTY TRADE MARKS STOCKS

Specialties in Demand but Farm Implement and Case Issues Recede.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 31—Specialties commanded buying power in today's stock market but weakness of farm implement and can issues tended to cloud the generally bright picture.

Business and industrial trends still were in the ascendancy and brought substantial support for selected issues.

Westinghouse pushed up about 5 points at its best. Among others ahead fractions to a point or more were Goodyear, Goodrich, U. S. Rubber, Bendix, Hudson Motors, A. M. Byers, American Telephone, Dome, McIntyre Porcupine, American Smelting, New York Central, Electric Boat, Newport Industries, Coca-Cola, Collins & Aikman, California Packing, Zenith Radio Commercial Investment Trust, Commercial Credit, Fajardo Sugar, Holly Sugar and Anaconda.

American Can and Continental Can broke 4 or so each, and J. I. Case, International Harvester and Deere were off around 1 to 3. Many equities were unchanged.

Bonds displayed a steady tone. Foreign good currencies were easy in terms of the dollar.

The Bethlehem Steel June quarter statement showing the best earnings for any period with one exception since 1930, was studied with considerable satisfaction by brokerage analysts.

Week-end trade reviews also aided market sentiment with Dun & Bradstreet reporting widening retail distribution throughout the country.

The French franc, at the beginning of foreign exchange transactions, was down .007-16 of a cent at 6.60 cents, and sterling was unchanged at $5.01⅝.

GRAINS RISE WILDLY AND THEN RECEDE

Profit Taking Wipes Out Wheat Advance and Halves Corn's Gain.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 31—Crop destruction both sides of the Atlantic resulted today in grain prices that in some cases outdid peaks unreached before since 1929.

Wildly excited trading went along with higher prices, but heavy profit taking developed at the last and quotations dropped sharply from extreme tops of about 4 cents each for wheat and corn. In wheat nearly all of today's gain was wiped out, but in corn only about half.

Wheat closed flurried, ⅜@¾ of a cent above yesterday's finish, Sept. 1.10⅜@¾, Dec. 1.11⅛@½, corn 1½@3⅜ advanced, Sept. 1.01⅝@⅞, Dec. 93⅛@⅞, oats ⅝@1⅛ up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 15 cents.

4-H JUDGING GROUP NAMED

Six Boys Chosen for State Events in County Tour Yesterday.

Six boys were selected today to represent Marion county in judging events at Wooster and at the Ohio State fair, following a dairy and livestock judging tour of the county made yesterday by 29 members of Marion county boys' 4-H clubs.

Those picked are William Miller, Earl Augenstein, Lowell Heiby, Donald Heiby and Donald Demorest, all of Waldo, and Reese Jones of Prospect.

Another team of three boys is to be picked later to represent the county in dairy judging events at the state fair, according to R. W. Pifer, assistant county agent, who was in charge of yesterday's judging tour.

The six picked today will enter judging events at Wooster on Friday, Aug. 14, in connection with state dairy day at the state agricultural experiment station.

Three of the boys, Reese Jones, William Miller and Lowell Heiby, also will represent Marion county in general livestock judging competition at the state fair. A team to enter the state fair's dairy judging events probably will be picked after the Wooster contest, Mr. Pifer said.

Yesterday's tour consisted of visits to the H. E. Click farm, two miles west of Waldo, Mrs. Frank Isler's farm, between Waldo and Prospect, and the Davids farm, just south of the Isler farm. Hogs, Shorthorn and Jersey cattle were judged.

Homer Porteus, Delaware county farm agent, served as official judge. He formerly was assistant county agent for Marion county.

He laughed heartily and introduced the old woman This is Mrs Taylor She lives next door to you

They were Carol and Ellen said politely delighted to meet her exhilarated at the idea of being neighbors The old woman hardly waited to acknowledge the introduction before she looked at Mr Hudson

What d'you think of your teacher playing golf on Sunday she demanded with a contortion that was intended for a smile

A crimson rage shook Carol She looked quickly at Mr Hudson and saw his face empty itself become bland and vacant He said pleasantly

Can I drive you home Mrs Taylor?

Mrs Taylor looked surprised but not disconcerted Mr and Mrs Hamm had brought her she said she guessed they were waiting for her now

When she had gone Carol turned on Mr Hudson I could hug you for that she said and his eyes danced Then she sobered I didn't dream the retribution would be so swift I won't play again if you say so

His face became thoughtful No You go on and I'll see what happen Nobody could please her we'll wait till the protest is more general He nodded almost paternally and turned away

As they left the church Carol realized that Ellen was shaking with laughter

On Tuesday morning Carol faced her first class Monday's session had been brief devoted to registration arranging schedules handing out book lists Today there would be a half time schedule 20 minutes to each period

The class was American History and the students were seniors She eyed them speculatively and the class eyed her with mingled relief and curiosity Relief because she was young and pretty curiosity because they wondered how much they could get by with

The door opened and four youths entered swaggering a little They looked like men but Carol recognized them from their bearing as members of the football squad One of them suggested a gorilla black and unshaven and slightly stooped walking noiselessly on his toes with a springy catlike tread Two others were nondescript and the fourth was the most beautiful male she had ever seen

The fourth boy quietly took a seat in the front row directly in front of her There were two vacant seats on the outer aisle next to the open windows and the other three broke and ran for them There ensued a swift silence … ge

Carol watched them for an … s … of … ment as on … The … was a minor crisis here she knew it from the bright interested stare with which the class was … the The windows were … high … afford a view of the world outside so why this primeval struggle? She looked at the boys q … and … t … the boys … and … ed … ngs

And then she had it One of the gorilla's cheeks was distended as if he had a toothache

She followed her intuition … hoping desperately that it was right

What is your name please?

He stammered "Bill Yandell"

"Thank Mr Yandell" the formal courtesy had the sting of a very fine wire "I'll excuse you and your friends long enough for you to get rid of that" She glanced at her watch It oughtn't to take longer than a minute and a half And when you come back you may take those seats in the center aisle"

Like a single individual the class released its breath Laughter beat against the walls and crimsoned the face of the three boys They … ran for the door

Carol felt limp with relief Who would ever have expected … gency like chewing tobacco? She relaxed suddenly and laughed with the class and the class took her to its heart

She got up and walked slowly toward a window … against the frame Her heart was hammering but she made her voice … berate and casual

I hope" she said and smiled quietly that we can all enjoy this class History's a fascinating study and the history that never gets into school books is the most fascinating of all I've often wondered why they leave so much of the truth out of our books and I've decided it must be because the American people can't take it"

Her casual use of their own language caught them at once They were accustomed to teachers who spoke the living tongue as they knew it She had their undivided attention

She walked back to her desk and sat down and every eye followed her The class was breathless in its attention

I think I'll try an experiment with you she said reflectively You seem fairly mature and you look rather intelligent I want to see this year if you're capable of taking some of the unpleasant truths of our history of thinking for yourselves

I want you to stop and examine things people say or write before you believe them Americans will believe anything under the sun if it's printed on a piece of paper and some of the stuff printed is lies

She nodded and smiled dismissal at the enraptured class You may go she added

Carol's "magnificent boy" talks to her tomorrow

Married Comrades

BY ADELE GARRISON

Mrs. Cosgrove Learns the Whole Story from Madge

I STARED AT Mrs Cosgrove astonished, [illegible] [illegible] she said [illegible] she was as [illegible] if her dead brother had [illegible] that I was doing what I thought he would have me do.

I had a sudden return of [illegible] feeling which had [illegible] me just before I had decided to surprise Samuel Braxton with [illegible] announcement that I would lend him the twenty five thousand dollars which he had said was the money [illegible] to keep him from bankruptcy and to set him on his feet again.

"You do not know what that means to me," I told her earnestly. "But won't you believe that it will ease my mind and my conscience if I tell you the whole story and my reasons for this [illegible] which would appear so rash and [illegible] to anybody not [illegible] concerned with the problem?"

Tells Her Story

"Of course," she said, "if that is the way you feel about it go ahead and tell me everything which is in your heart."

I drew a deep breath and marshalled words for my story.

"In the first place, I [illegible] you remember [illegible] that I [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] thousand dollars as a personal gift to be used for my own charities or for any pressing personal need of my own."

"I remember perfectly," she said.

"I also remember that Robert [illegible] you [illegible] have a larger sum. It should have been larger," she added simply. "He was loading you down with a great responsibility.

But not one for which one could take remuneration." I returned [illegible]. "I want you to know that never from that day to this have I touched a penny of that money—nor of the other—for any purpose whatever except to change investments recommended by the bank."

"I guessed that long ago," she said softly.

Not Her Money

"And I want you to know now that of the twenty five thousand I am planning to lend, ten thousand only is coming from the money Robert left in trust with me for Lillian and Marion. The other fifteen thousand is this sum Robert gave to me. Of course in one way I feel no more the owner of one dollar than another. I never could use a dollar even of that fifteen thousand unless some of my dear ones were in danger of actual starvation."

She sat up suddenly at that, her eyes suddenly stern.

"I am sorry to hear you say that," she said. "Robert would be infinitely grieved if he knew you felt that way about a gift he made in good faith, a gift he genuinely wished you to have. [illegible]" I said suddenly [illegible] Quixotism [illegible] [illegible] dear [illegible] [illegible] feel quite so [illegible] would [illegible] [illegible] she said.

"Go on," I said. "Please say [illegible] your mind."

"[illegible] of yours so [illegible]," she said. "If you [illegible] to lend money on a [illegible] [illegible] take it all from the [illegible]"

The Best Things in Life are Free

YOU probably remember that popular song of a few years back. It still comes over the radio occasionally — The Best Things in Life are Free.

That's pretty much the story at LINCO stations. Some of the best things the LINCO man has to offer the car owner are free.

There's free air, free battery testing, free distilled water, free water for the radiator, free wiping of headlights and windshield, free travel information and road maps, free rest room facilities and a lot of other "frees."

Of course, the LINCO man has plenty of things to sell, too —everything, in fact, to make motoring safer and more enjoyable. But he renders the free services as willingly as he makes the sales. Get to know the LINCO man. You'll find that he's the chap who really puts the service in service station.

Huber's ten game winning streak was snapped last night when the Marion Steam Shovel club blanked the Commercial league leaders 5 to 0 at [illegible] field. Snyder, the Diggers mound ace, set the hard hitting Huber team down with six scattered hits and pitched the entire seven innings. The upset gave the M S S team renewed hope of taking the pennant.

Huber continues in first place in the standings with a one game lead over the Shovel squad. Both teams have two scheduled contests and one postponed game remaining to be played. The Shovel team's only possibility of winning the league pennant lies in the hope that Huber will fall in at least one of its three remaining games. If the leaders drop a single game it will be possible for the Diggers to garner a tie by winning all of its three conflicts.

In other games last night the Keytown Campers edged the Marion Merchants 5 to 3. Excavator topped Fairfield 10 to 9 and the Lawrence Farm Markets drubbed Prospect 14 to 2.

The M S S pitcher Snyder starred not only in a pitching role as his team downed Huber's entry but went to bat three times and clouted out a home run and a triple. His homer in the initial inning accounted for the first run of the game and with excellent support from his teammates both in fielding and hitting the 5 to 0 victory followed.

Deadlocked 9 to 9 at the end of the sixth frame Excavator's entry copped its duel with Fairfield by scoring a single run in the last inning. Eight fielding errors of the Fairfield aggregation helped the Excavator team in scoring its 10 to 9 win. Hughes hit a home run and triple to account for two of Excavator's extra base hits while Gamble, Baldauf and Weber each tripled for Fairfield.

The Keytown Campers scored five runs on three hits to win over the Marion Merchants 5 to 3. The Merchants failed to cash in on seven hits. Prospect's entry in the Commercial loop toppled before the Lawrence Markets 14 to 2 to be eliminated from the pennant race. The scores by innings follow:

GREYS BEAT CANTON TO HOLD TOP BERTH

COLUMBUS, O., July 31 — Results of four ball games in the Mid Atlantic league failed to change the standings last night. The Greys took Canton into camp 8 to 5 and Charleston made it two straight over Huntington [illegible] to 1. Johnstown caught Akron for five lightning double plays and won 8 to 6.

Portsmouth put Dayton on ice in the first and third innings but it took three pitchers to stop the Ducks from melting the game. The score was 8 to 6.

CLEVELAND TITLE AT STAKE TODAY

CLEVELAND, July 31 — Miss Edith Begg of Canterbury, 1933 city champion and runner-up the past two years, faced Mrs. Charles R. Harbaugh in a 36 hole Cleveland championship match over the Kirtland course today.

Mrs. Harbaugh yesterday dethroned Mary K. Brown, four times champion in five years. The score was 3 and 2.

Miss Begg holed three difficult putts on the last four holes of her 18 hole semi final match with Miss Isabel Ogilvie and won one up.

LAKESIDE, O., July 31—The annual Lakeside horseshoe tournament title today was in possession of John Haynock, a home towner who won 13 of 16 games. Thirteen wins and three losses gave W. H. Phillips of Cumberland and A. Miller of Youngstown a second place tie.

TROSKY LEADS TRIBE VICTORY WITH TWO HOMERS; YANKS LOSE

Indians Cut New York Lead to 7 1-2 Games, Cubs Lose to Giants

The lanky Chicago White Sox sophomore right hander who hit the headlines with 1935's [illegible] hit no-run performance just about a year ago and has [illegible] dropped out of sight since then stands out today as the [illegible] pendable pitcher in the big leagues since early June.

While such mound marvels as Dizzy Dean, Carl Hubbell and Schoolboy Rowe have been [illegible] the lion's share of the [illegible] glory with their pitching [illegible] ex-Oklahoma City [illegible] steadily winning ball games. With yesterday's [illegible] triumph over the Athletics he had a string of 10 straight.

Since June 6 he has stopped every club in the league at least once with the exception of the Detroit Tigers, against whom he wasn't called into action, and the St. Louis Browns, whom the White Sox haven't met in that time.

With the Athletics his victims on four occasions, the Senators three and the Yanks, Indians and Red Sox one each, he has failed to last only one game and has allowed an average of only slightly more than eight hits per contest.

His victory string has played a large part in boosting the White Sox from a pre-season no better than-second division choice into a very prominent first division outfit. They held onto fourth place yesterday despite the Tigers' bid with a 5-4 ten inning decision over the league leading Yankees.

Schoolboy Rowe tightened up after a shaky start and lasted the whole way.

Cleveland's red hot Indians, with Hal Trosky smashing two of five homers, won their fifth straight battle 11-8 from the Washington Senators to clip the Yankees' pace setting edge to 7½ games.

The Chicago Cubs' National league lead was shaved to a single game when the fast moving Giants made it two straight over the champions, winning 3-1 behind Hubbell's seven hit pitching.

The second place Cardinals walloped the Dodgers 7-0 with Rookie Jim Winford allowing but four hits for the tightest pitching performance by a gas house gang moundsman in weeks.

With the Athletics losing to the White Sox, the St. Louis Browns pulled a game and a half out of the American league cellar with their second straight win over the Red Sox, 4-3.

The Pittsburgh Pirates outlasted the Boston Bees for 11 innings and pulled out a 5-3 victory, while the Phillies managed a split in a doubleheader with the Reds, winning the nightcap 5-4 after Bill Hallahan shut them out 5-0 in the opener.

LANCASTER NINE TO MEET SHOVEL SUNDAY

Southern Ohio Champs To Invade Lincoln Park for Diggers Twelfth Game

Plenty of competition will be in store for the Marion Steam Shovel baseball team when the Lancaster Coca Cola nine invades Lincoln park Sunday afternoon. The visiting aggregation won the Southern Ohio championship at Chillicothe last season and is carrying the same roster of players this year.

ENGINEERS MAKING WATER CO. SURVEY

Compile Inventory as Stage Is Set for Conflict With City Over Rates.

An inventory of the property of the Marion Water Co is being made by engineers retained by the company

George Whysall superintendent of the company said today the inventory probably will serve the dual purpose of furnishing evidence for the company s appeal to the state utilities commission from lower rates proposed by the city and also will provide the company with a complete inventory of its property

Meanwhile City Solicitor Ralph E. Carhart made preparations to go to Columbus Tuesday to examine the company s appeal papers and determine what the next steps in the rate controversy will be

The solicitor said one of the first items he will check is the adequacy of the $1 250 monthly bond the company has agreed to post with the commission to assure refund payments to consumers in the event if rates are found to be excessive

As he prepared to investigate the sufficiency of the bond the Associated Press reported in a news dispatch from Columbus today that the state utilities commission has approved a $15 000 bond posted by the water company as security during litigation

In appealing yesterday from the city s proposal for lower rates the company elected to co col lecting the present o nder bond

BALLOON RACE ON AT EXPOSITION SUNDAY

Cleveland Event May Decide Dispute Over Who Won National Race on July 4

Special to The Star

CLEVELAND July 31 — Who won the National balloon race at Denver July 4? This is a question that may be decided on Aug 2 in Cleveland when the two leading balloons in the country "Goodyear X and Great Lakes Exposition stage a return race starting at sunset from the exposition grounds on Cleveland s downtown lake-front

The two racing balloons which outdistanced crack army and navy entries were unofficially declared winners of first and second places at the annual Denver classic but Chairman William Enyart of the National Aeronautic club today expressed doubt that the Goodyear balloon would retain its unofficial first place An unfortunate accident may disqualify the Akron bag

The barograph of the Goodyear X declared Mr Enyart "stopped recording after nine hours in the air For this reason we cannot award the Litchfield trophy the 50-pound silver cup awarded each year to the winner of the National race until this situation has been aired

In the meantime the trophy was turned over to the Great Lakes Exposition where it will remain on display until the winner of America s greatest balloon race is definitely decided

Lincoln G Dickey general manager of the exposition had this to say about the unusual situation

The Great Lakes Exposition does not care to win on such an accident It s like winning the world s boxing championship on a foul If the pilots are willing I suggest that the cup be presented to the balloon winning the race-off

Cleveland Balloon club officials expressed doubt that this arrangement would find favor with the contest committee of the National Aeronautic club whose decision is final in the National race

In the meantime Akron and Cleveland are lined up solid against each other as partisans of the two balloon crews in next Sunday s race Sunday is Akron day at the exposition and a calvacade of motor cars five miles long will bring an army of Akron rooters led by the mayor to the field

The prize besides the Litchfield trophy—may be the representation of the United States in the International Balloon races—the Gordon Bennett Cup—to be held in Warsaw Poland in August

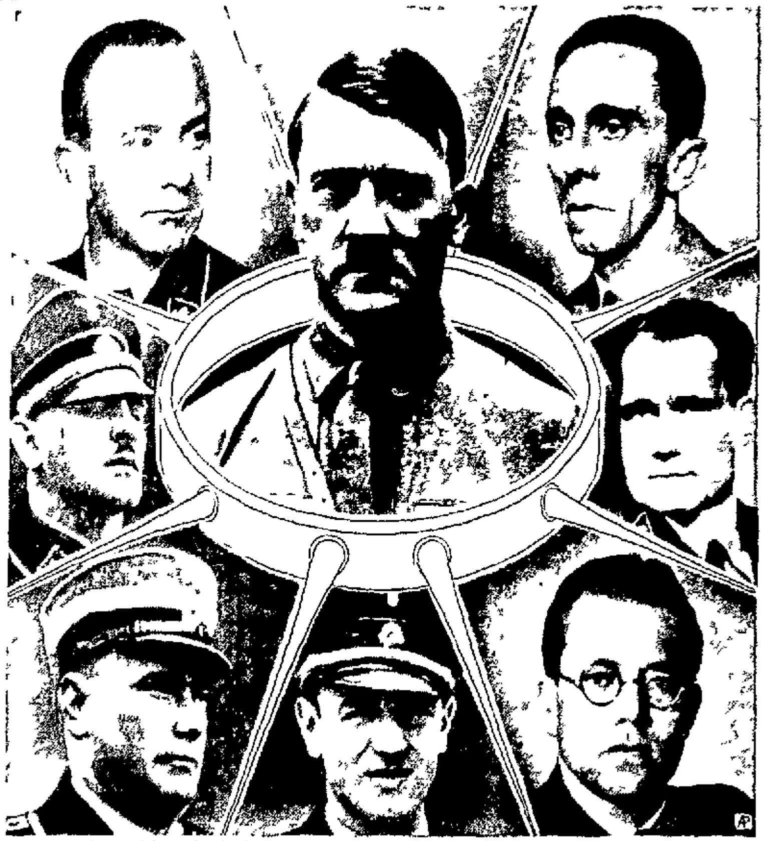
"Iron Ring" of Tested Lieutenants Shields Hitler in All Activities



Surrounding Adolf Hitler in his daily activities is an iron ring of trusted Nazi lieutenants which includes reading anticlockwise from upper left Dr Otto Dietrich Josef Dietrich Wilhelm Brueckner Erich Kempka Philipp Bouhler Rudolf Hess and Dr Joseph Goebbels

By the Associated Press

BERLIN July 31—Millions of Germans have at one time or another seen and heard Adolf Hitler but the number of those who are about him daily is limited to about a dozen

Even Colonel General Hermann Goering upon whom Hitler relies more than upon any other single man does not belong to the daily retinue of men who dine with the fuehrer spend leisure hours with him and travel wherever he goes

Of these the most important are

Wilhelm Brueckner Hitler's senior adjutant towers above the middle-sized Nazi chief in stature He joined the Nazi movement in 19[illegible] and was sentenced to six months in prison for participating in the beer cellar putsch of November 1923

Julius Schaub the fuehrer's second adjutant heard Hitler speak for the first time in 1921 and immediately joined the Nazi movement his membership number is 81

Friedrich Hossbach entered the German army in the spring of 1914 He became Hitler's military adjutant on Sept 1 1934 with the rank of major Recently he was advanced to lieutenant colonel

Dr Otto Dietrich head of the Nazi press department checks Hitler's every public utterance before its release He served as a volunteer in the war and later earned his degree of doctor of political science at Freiburg From 1928 he devoted himself exclusively to newspaper work

Joseph Dietrich commander of Hitler's brown shirted bodyguard is responsible for the fuehrer's personal safety In 1934 during the "blood purge" he was credited with throwing himself between Hitler and one of Roehm's men who wanted to pull the trigger on the Nazi chieftain.

Heinrich Hoffmann, "Personal Picture Reporter of the National Socialist Workers' Party," snaps the [illegible] camera shots [illegible] so prominent in party propaganda. He learned his profession as an aerial photographer during the war

Rudolf Hess dark-eyed shaggy browed [illegible] minister without portfolio concentrates in his hands the entire [illegible] of Nazi party management—reporting to Hitler only on broad policies

Dr Joseph Goebbels reich minister of propaganda lunches almost daily with Hitler and of an evening he may summon German artistic talent for the chief's entertainment for Dr Goebbels also is president of the reich's culture chamber

Hansl Bauer Hitler's trusted pilot for five years learned to fly during the war and afterward became a commercial pilot He is credited with almost a sixth sense for picking emergency landing fields

Philipp Bouhler receives all letters addressed to Hitler affecting party formations and party members He became business manager of the Nazi party in 1925

Erich Kempka 26 successor to Julius Schreck as Hitler's chauffeur has been a chauffeur in the Hitler household since 1932

MAKERS OF OHIO FLAG

The death of Charles L. Swain at Cincinnati in 1933 marked the passing of prominent Ohio men who designed and made the state flag of Ohio Others were W S McKinnon and Samuel L Patterson and John Eisenmann of Cleveland

It was felt that on the occasion of Ohio day at the American exposition at Buffalo in 1901 the headquarters of the governor should be marked by some ensign—but Ohio had no flag Why not adopt one for this occasion the members of the commission said

So at the dinner given in celebration of Ohio Day three Ohio flags were presented—one to Governor Nash, one to Pa[illegible] and one to President [illegible] of the exposition.

TEXT OF KNOX ACCEPTANCE SPEECH

CHICAGO, July 31—Following is the text, in part, of Col. Knox's address here last night in which he accepted the Republican nomination for the vice presidency of the United States:

You have heard the eloquent words of that stalwart statesman from our sister state of Oregon, Sen. Steiwer. You have heard him convey to me the official notification of my nomination by the Republican party for the high office of vice president of the United States. You have heard his clear call to all citizens to join in a crusade for sound government in America.

It is [illegible] privilege and my duty to accept this call to service. I am deeply conscious of the personal honor that has been conferred on me by the Republican party. I am deeply conscious also of the responsibility it [illegible] on me to bear this honor worthily. But I am above all conscious of the opportunity for service.

And I am moved [illegible] by a realization that in this crusade for the restoration of sound government in our land there is before me the greatest opportunity for service that has ever [illegible].

I pledge my loyalty to the principles of the Republican party. I pledge my loyalty to the [illegible] laid down by the [illegible] convention. I pledge myself to the principles of sound and honest government. I pledge my personal loyalty to that great governor of a prairie state, the next president of the United States, the Hon. Alf Landon.

It is no ordinary campaign that confronts us. It is no ordinary political choice that the country must make next November. In this presidential campaign, as in every other, it is for the nation to decide whether the administration in office has performed its duty.

SAYS NEW DEAL FOUND WANTING

In this first and ordinary issue the present administration is found wanting. It has failed to meet its responsibility for the orderly, economical and impartial administration of the affairs of the nation. More than three years ago the present administration took command of the American government. No administration in the history of the nation has had so glorious an opportunity.

The country had already begun to emerge from the bottom pit of a great world depression caused by a calamitous World war. A sound and wounded [illegible] [illegible] a wise and far-seeing government, the [illegible] of [illegible] enterprise and the encouragement of sensible government policies to take up its forward life.

A stricken agriculture [illegible] only the encouragement [illegible] agricultural [illegible] legislative assistance [illegible] needed [illegible] of sound laws of [illegible] credit.

The present [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] of [illegible] had [illegible] of 19[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to [illegible] the American [illegible] twelve million [illegible] to work [illegible] were the [illegible] helpless victims [illegible] responsible.

HITS AT NEW DEAL EXPERIMENTATION

The present administration had [illegible] moral obligation to keep [illegible]. That obligation was to fulfill the solemn promises of economy and moderation with which it lured the people in the campaign of 1932.

How did it meet that responsibility? How did it do that job? How did it keep that moral obligation? From the day that it took office it embarked on a series of hysterical experiments on the economic life of a burdened people. At a time when universal cooperation was a necessity it initiated a campaign of abuse and vilification of business men. At a time when the credit of the country should have been strengthened it inaugurated a policy of credit adulteration and currency experiment that demoralized foreign trade and frightened domestic finance.

It set up a system of regimentation of industry that reduced production and prevented reemployment. By coercion of congress it forced the passage of reform measures so recklessly drawn that they hamstrung the revival of enterprise and paralyzed the renewal of investment. It installed a regimentation of agriculture that destroyed food and reduced foreign markets and increased the cost of living and multiplied the expense of relief.

At a time when private industry was struggling desperately for a new start it set up governmental enterprise to compete with private business. At a time when the burden of taxation was already hard to bear it embarked on a policy of squandering public funds and increasing the weight of taxes. At a time when effort and mutual good will would have completed recovery it promoted sectional hatred and class strife.

At a time when returning business confidence was ending depression it began a campaign to terrorize business and subjugate the banks. At a time when confidence in the character of government was vital it established a spoils system. At a time when the economic system was worn and emaciated it performed major surgical operations upon the industrial body to see what was inside. It adopted an economic philosophy of scarcity and forced it upon a hungry and distressed people.

The present administration ignored its responsibility, failed in its job, defaulted in its obligation. I do not need to tell you the result. The inevitable recovery could not be permanently blocked by governmental error. It is still on its way. But it was retarded and discouraged.

POINTS TO MOUNTING FEDERAL DEFICITS

You see the results in the fourth year of mounting deficits, in the chaotic condition of our currency, in the bloated reserves of our banks, in the swollen expenditures for relief. Above all you see the results in the millions still unemployed.

I charge the present administration with delaying recovery in the United States and in the world. I charge the present administration with responsibility for the 10,000,000 unemployed. It would not be truthful to say that all the measures of the present administration have been failures. In the mad whirl of economic experiments there have been a few sound and desirable measures of regulation. This must be freely conceded.

But in the major measures of recovery and in the task of administration it has failed completely. It has not kept faith with the nation. It has not fulfilled the duties of its stewardship. On this one issue, that it has not conducted the affairs of government efficiently and economically, it should be condemned and rejected by the people.

This endless succession of interferences and experiments was inaugurated under the deceptive slogan of a new deal. This policy of government by guess, officially explained by President Roosevelt as [illegible] everything [illegible] [illegible] free [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] can explain [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] came [illegible].

[illegible] the [illegible] federal [illegible] free competition is correct. It still stands for a vigorous federal authority [illegible] authority within the Constitution. It has always exercised that authority legitimately and constitutionally. It always will. It has always resisted that authority [illegible] injurious [illegible] state rights and local self government.

The Republican party [illegible] conditions [illegible] increase [illegible] [illegible] it always will. It [illegible] of changing the Constitution [illegible]. It disapproves a philosophy that [illegible] at the Constitution [illegible] and wants to use only the [illegible] while.

REPUBLICANS OPPOSE LOCAL INTERFERENCE

It condemns the abuse of federal power to invade local rights. It does not believe in putting a New Jersey pants presser in jail for charging less than the amount dictated by a board in Washington. It disapproves a government of men instead of a government of law. It prefers a government guided by constitutions to a government guided only by caprice.

For more than three years the economic life of the country has been at the mercy of a crew of amateur experimenters hacking at the vitals of American industry, agriculture, commerce and finance. Driven by a fanatic impulse to shape our economic structure to their fantastic designs they have usurped the powers of congress, insulted the authority of the courts, invaded the powers of the states and undermined the institutions of local self government.

As one experiment after another has ended in ignominious failure or repudiation by the courts new experiments have been attempted, from laws to put producers of potatoes in jail to proposals to cut Florida in two. Driven to desperation by failure the present administration undertook to gamble with fate. Realizing that recovery was inevitable in time it undertook to overcome the depressing effects of its experiments by an artificial prosperity to be created by the squandering of public funds. It is now a race between the exhaustion of federal credit and the com[illegible] recovery. It is a race between inflation and the re[illegible] normal business activity. [illegible] are yet decided.

[illegible] can define the new [illegible] even [illegible]. [illegible] know what it means. It means federal control over local business [illegible] federal [illegible] wages, hours and local conditions of work. It leads to federal regimentation of the labor, the business and the home of every American citizen. It leads to price-fixing and production control by federal authority. It leads inevitably to the extinction of the small business man, to the end of free enterprise in America.

It is not a question of whether federal regimentation of the economic life of a great nation can be successful. [illegible] the verdict of [illegible] from Diocletian to [illegible]. Mr. [illegible] in Washington [illegible] man can successfully [illegible] industry for a [illegible] nation. All the major new deal experiments have ended in [illegible] economic loss.

DEMANDS LIMITS TO REGIMENTATION

There are limits beyond which federal regimentation should not go even if it could be efficient. When it passes these limits it destroys personal initiative and individual liberty. The American people do not want federal regimentation of their economic activities even if it could be efficient and [illegible]. As Al Smith has expressed it the American people do not want a dictator, not even if they could get a good one.

Here we have the issue that must be decided next November. It is whether the American people shall have an orderly and economical government recognizing the limitations of federal power, or a government determined to reorganize the American economic system by experiment. We know what the decision will be.

The people want recovery, not [illegible]. They want economy, not waste. They want work, not relief. They want cooperation among the partners in production, not industrial strife. They want order in economic life, not an occasional breathing spell. They want dignity in government, not a merry-go-round. They do not believe that all bankers are scoundrels, that all employers are exploiters, that all business men are motivated by greed, that all working people are victims of oppression.

They do not believe that the American system was a failure until the new deal came along to save it from its sins. They do not believe that American industry is a jungle of cut-throat competition dominated by intrenched greed. The people know that with the election of a new administration next November the dammed-up forces of recovery will burst forth in a magnificent prosperity.

The issue before the country is the preservation of free enterprise. On this issue the Republican party appeals to the whole people. It appeals to the millions of sincere Democrats who have been outraged by the appearance of an American [illegible] in the garb of ancient Democratic principles. It appeals to the [illegible] hard-working people whose patient and accumulated savings in life insurance and savings accounts are jeopardized by the reckless spending of the present administration. It appeals to the millions of business men who have for years faced the adversities of depression and are now facing the [illegible] and the tax gatherer.

DON'T PROMISE TO SOLVE ALL PROBLEMS

The Republican party does not promise to solve all these problems that you face. It has no patent nostrum to cure every economic ill. There is no royal road to the solution of all our economic problems. But the Republican party does make certain promises. It does promise a fair and honest government. It does promise that this government will be as economical and efficient as it can be made. It does promise to make every effort to install sensible and practical measures to help in the solution of the problems of trade and industry and agriculture, the problems of poverty and insecurity. Above all it promises you that in its efforts to aid in these problems it will not prevent you from trying to work out your individual and personal problems for yourselves with your own ambitions, your own enterprise and your own energies.

Through the 2,000 years of Christian civilization the price of progress has been sacrifice. Three hundred years ago our forefathers could have purchased safety but at the price of liberty. They could have remained safe in England and left the new world to be conquered by others.

Again we reach a point where the blazes along the trail run out. Two ways lie ahead. One lies along the apparently easy valleys of regimented society maintained by a paternalistic government which falsely promises to provide its subjects with a security that men were wont to purchase in the past by their own efforts. The other lies along the rugged heights of self-support, self-government and self-respect.

Which will we choose? We know the path our fathers chose. More often than not the right way of life is not the easy way. Because we have always taken the self-reliant way, the self-respecting way, American character has emerged as our greatest national asset.

And so I preach to you the doctrine not of the soft and spineless kept citizen of a regimented state but of the self-respecting and self-reliant men who made America. Which way shall we go? The answer is in your hands. I know what it will be. Next November you will choose the American way.

T[illegible] paid nearly $11,000 last year for upkeep of fire alarms.

If you could see the Chesterfield paper when it's being made you'd know why it's pure and clean. It looks just about like rich cream.

When Chesterfield paper comes off the rolls it is tested again and again to make sure it will burn without taste or odor.

We know from experience that good cigarette paper helps make a good cigarette—we know it's one reason why Chesterfield wins.
